PRIVACY DISCLOSURE

Debt Management Credit Counseling Corp has implemented policies and procedures to protect the security and confidentiality of your nonpublic personal information. Debt Management Credit Counseling Corp would like to take this opportunity to inform you how we gather, use and maintain this information. This privacy policy complies with federal laws and regulations.

Privacy Policy

We collect nonpublic personal information about you from the following sources: 1. Information we receive from you; 2. Information about your transactions with us or others; and 3. Information we receive from your creditors or a consumer reporting agency.

We may disclose the following kinds of nonpublic personal information about you: 1. Information we receive from you, such as your name, address, social security number, assets and income; 2. Information about your transactions with us or others, such as your account balance, payment history, parties to transactions, and credit card usage; and 3. Information we receive from a consumer reporting agency, such as your creditworthiness and credit history.

We may disclose nonpublic personal information about you to third parties, such as government agencies and your creditors, as permitted by law, including the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, and Florida Housing Finance Corp.

We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to protect nonpublic personal information about you from unauthorized access or intrusion. We limit access to the nonpublic personal information about you only to those employees, contractors and agents who need such access in connection with providing products or services to you or for other legitimate business purposes.

We will at all times comply with all laws and regulations to which we are subject regarding the collection, use and disclosure of individually identifiable information.
